

The grid is designed for calligraphy practice. It features a vertical checkerboard pattern on the left side, which serves as a guide for line placement. The main area is a grid of horizontal lines. The lines are spaced according to the proportions 3:5:3:2:15°. The first line from the top is the top line. The second line is the x-height line. The third line is the descender line. The fourth line is the baseline. The fifth line is the bottom line. The area between the top and x-height lines is shaded light gray. The area between the x-height and descender lines is also shaded light gray. The area between the descender and baseline lines is shaded light gray. The area between the baseline and bottom line is shaded light gray. The area between the bottom line and the next line below is shaded light gray. This pattern repeats down the page.
