

The image shows a calligraphy practice worksheet. On the left side, there is a vertical ruler with a black and white checkerboard pattern. The ruler has five 'X' marks. The main writing area is a large rectangle with a background of diagonal hatching. The hatching consists of thin, light gray lines forming a grid. The hatching is oriented at a 45-degree angle. The writing area is bounded by horizontal lines. The top and bottom lines of the writing area are solid gray, while the intermediate lines are thin and light gray. The overall layout is designed for practicing calligraphy with a specific nib and line proportions.